In the Gospel today, Jesus stands in the midst of us and says: "Peace be with you!" During Mass we turn to each other and say, "Peace be with you!" As you put your gift into the St. Vincent de Paul box (located at the rear of the church in the main aisle), you say "Peace be with you!" to those who are poor and hungry.

DIVINE MERCY SUNDAY: I found the following reflection on a very interesting website called youngcatholics.com. Please share this website with any young Catholics you may know. The inset is the title of a book by Pope Francis:

The readings for Divine Mercy Sunday Year A (the 2nd Sunday of Easter) help us reflect on the boundless mercy of God. The first reading tells how the early Christian community lived in peace, sharing with each other. The psalm reminds us that God's love is eternal. The second reading speaks of having faith in the resurrection. And in the gospel Jesus shows mercy to Thomas, even in his doubts.

- The Resurrection of Jesus Christ – This is a central theme in the readings for Divine Mercy Sunday Year A, as it is through Christ's resurrection that we receive mercy and forgiveness for our sins. The readings testify to the fact that Jesus conquered death and sin, and that through his resurrection, we are able to experience new life and hope.
- Divine Mercy and Forgiveness – This theme is particularly evident in the Gospel reading of John 20:19-31, where Jesus appears to his disciples and offers them peace and forgiveness. He commissions them to carry out his mission of forgiveness and mercy, and grants them the power of the Holy Spirit to do so.
- Faith and Trust in Jesus – Throughout the readings, there is an emphasis on the importance of faith and trust in Jesus. This is particularly evident in the story of Thomas, who initially doubted the testimony of the other disciples, but ultimately came to believe through his encounter with the risen Christ.
- Witnessing to the Resurrection – The disciples were called to bear witness to the resurrection of Jesus, and this remains the mission of the Church today. Through our words and actions, we are called to testify to the reality of the resurrection and to share the good news of God's mercy and forgiveness.
- The Gift of the Holy Spirit – The readings emphasize the importance of the Holy Spirit in empowering the disciples to carry out their mission. It is through the Holy Spirit that they are able to forgive sins and to be witnesses to the resurrection.
- The Mission of the Church – The readings also highlight the mission of the Church, which is to proclaim the good news of God's mercy and forgiveness to the world. This mission is grounded in the reality of the resurrection and is empowered by the Holy Spirit.
- God's love and compassion for humanity – The readings reveal the depth of God's love and compassion for humanity, as demonstrated through his mercy and forgiveness. Through his death and resurrection, Jesus offers us the gift of new life and the hope of eternal salvation.
- The power of faith to overcome doubt and fear – Finally, the readings for Divine Mercy Sunday Year A show us that faith has the power to overcome doubt and fear. Like Thomas, we may struggle with doubt and uncertainty, but, through faith and trust in Jesus, we can experience the peace and joy that comes from knowing the risen Christ.

THIS WEEK WE CONTINUE OUR "LIVING JOY" SERIES: RULE 6: MAKE FRIENDS

Faithful friends are a sturdy shelter: whoever finds one has found a treasure. (Sirach 6:14)

Questions to consider: 1. Think about the root system of Sequoias—how interlocking roots among trees makes them incredibly tall and strong. Which friendships in your life spiritually build you up to be tall and strong? Which friendships do you need to cut off? 2. Why is making friends so hard in society today, especially as we get older? 3. What prevents intimacy and authenticity in your friendships?

4. What qualities do you think Jesus had as a friend? 5. How do you need to be more like him in your friendships?

The Challenge: 1. If you haven't already, reach out to two to five friends as Chris suggests in the video to start a life sharing small group. Perhaps start by going through this program with them! 2. Invest. Reflect on what you need to do to invest in a friendship in your life to make it stronger, and do it! 3. Be intimate. When you connect with your friends, be intentional about revealing your heart, and asking how he or she is really doing.

My sisters and brothers of St. Cletus, below you will find a copy of my Easter Sunday homily. The 50day length of this season is meant to give us the opportunity to “savor” not only that Jesus died on the cross and rose from the dead but that we have died and risen with Him through our Baptisms. To help us better “savor” all of this, you will find my lava lamp on display in our sanctuary along with our Paschal Candle throughout this Easter season. Please let its presence be a reminder to seriously reflect upon what Easter is all about and how we are called to live its message. Fr. Jim Benz

This lava lamp has a very interesting history. When I first came to St. Cletus in 2004, there was an elderly couple who were shut-ins and so we’d bring them Communion each week. Often when it would be my turn to see them, they would have this lamp turned on, and I always would comment how beautiful I thought it was. The wife died first and then the husband, but, before he died, he told their only child, a daughter, to give that lamp to me, and I think of them whenever I turn it on.

The mechanism behind these lamps is pretty simple. The light bulb in the base of this lamp heats up the water in it which causes the golden flecks to circulate. Now why do I have this lamp here on Easter Sunday? It’s very simple; this lamp describes very accurately what Easter is all about.

Think of the bulb at the bottom of this lamp as the Death and Resurrection of Jesus which, like this bulb, influences the whole lamp. Think of these gold flecks as all the ways in your life that reflect God’s love for you, a love shown primarily in Death and Resurrection of Jesus.

Think of simple things like the smiles on the faces of all those who love you. Think of special times in your life when you experienced God’s love for you: baptisms, weddings, confirmations, First Communions, the births of your children, retreats, anniversaries, and the like. Think of great vistas you have experienced in your life: beautiful sunrises and sunsets, natural scenes like the Grand Canyon or some other national park. Think of great works of art such as Michelangelo’s Pieta, the Sistine Chapel, the Mona Lisa, something like the Statue of Liberty or even the artwork of your kids or grandkids which you have affixed to your refrigerator door. Think of the complexity of nature through your last trip to the zoo or by your last visit to your doctor. All of these are like these gold flecks reflecting the beauty of God’s love for us as expressed especially and primarily by the Death and Resurrection of Jesus.

While I am referring to the gold flecks, notice also the water in which they are suspended. Think of that water as being God’s love for us which surrounds us all the time like the oil surrounding these gold flecks. As I like to say, as fish swim in water, so we are constantly “swimming” in God’s love. As I have shared before, I like the words of St. Bonaventure that “All creation bears the footprints of God” and God’s love for us, or the words of St. Hildegard of Bingen who said that “Every creature is a glittering, glistening mirror of God” and therefore a glittering, glistening mirror of God’s love for us in which we are constantly swimming like fish swim in water.

If this is so, then where do you and I come in? Please note this little switch which turns this lamp on and off. This switch is our ability to make decisions, especially our decision to believe or not believe in the power of God shown by the Resurrection. In other words, this switch reflects our faith or lack of it. If we choose to believe, then the lamp of Easter that embraces each one of our lives will shine brightly and beautifully, but, if we choose not to believe especially when we sin, we prevent the lamp of Easter from shining brightly and beautifully in our lives as we turn it off. That is this switch, our willingness to believe or not believe.

I could end this homily right here, but there is one other aspect about this lamp that I think I need to share with you. If we look at the people who are around us who have turned their faith off, then I would ask us to consider looking upon them as one of the gold flecks in our lives. By valuing them, by caring for them, by loving them, by living in a way that shows our own lives as being like this “turned on” lava lamp, then we will possibly influence them to turn on the switch of faith in their own lives, that switch which is belief in God’s love for us as proven by Jesus’ Death and Resurrection. And, if we will live in a way that shows the beauty of our faith in God’s love, then maybe they too will choose to turn on that switch of faith in their own lives so that we together will be able to swim in God’s love as fish swim in water.

○ Lord, I know now that it is in silence, in a quiet moment, in a forgotten corner that you will meet me, call me by name and speak to me a word of peace. It is in my stillest hour that you become the risen Lord to me.

The time period for Ministry's leaders to apply for a portion of this year's proceeds extends from now through May 14.

All chairs of our parish ministries are asked to check with their members to consider if there are any extra projects for which they would want to seek funding. Grants will be awarded in July. For an application, please contact Fr. Jim Benz, at jbenz@saintcletus.org or 636-946-6327, ext. 1711.
