TWO GREAT FAITH QUOTES:

Quote #1: As members of the Body of Christ, “In essentials, unity; in nonessentials, liberty; in all things, charity.”

(From Lloyd Newell in the 2/26/23 “Music & the Spoken Word” broadcast from Salt Lake City)

For generations, people who want to live in harmony with others have been guided by a well-loved saying: “In essentials, unity; in nonessentials, liberty; in all things, charity.” St. Augustine of Hippo (354 – 430) It’s not hard to agree with such eloquent wisdom. What’s hard is separating the essentials from the nonessentials. But there are at least a few essentials that seem beyond question. Every person you meet—everyone who lives on this beautiful planet with you—is worthy of respect and compassion. We are all children of God, and because of that we each have inherent worth. It follows, then, that one of the essentials is the need to be unified in loving one another. As human beings, we are more alike than we are different.

As to nonessentials, we could think of many: tastes in food or music, preferences in activities and personalities. Although we value our similarities, it’s our differences that give richness and depth to our relationships. If we were all the same, there would be nothing to learn from each other. This is why we cherish individuality and honor the God-given liberty to choose. And lastly, in all things and at all times, we need charity. After all, what good are unity and liberty if people don’t love one another? Unity would be hollow, and liberty would become selfishness.

The Apostle Paul put it this way: “Though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing. And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing. Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; ... is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil; ... “Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. Charity never faileth” (1 Corinthians 13:2–8).

Unity happens when people interact charitably with each other. And liberty works best when inspired by charity. In other words, if we want unity in essentials and liberty in nonessentials, then we need, in all things, charity.

Quote #2: For the believer, “Fear is stupid” for we know we are embraced by God’s love.

ALL THINGS NEW TOUCHES ST. CLETUS

Even though St. Cletus will remain as a stand-alone entity, we are still an integral part and not a separate, isolated part of the Catholic Church. As such, like our brothers and sisters in Christ, we will be experiencing change. For the past 6 years and even longer we have had the gift of 2 priests available to minister to us. As most already know beginning August 1, we will only have 1 priest. This change will, in the months ahead, affect many aspects of our lives and routines as we settle into a new way of doing things. The most immediate will be the Mass schedule.

The number and times for the Weekend Masses will remain unchanged for the immediate future. Saturday @ 5:00 PM, Sunday @ 7:30, 9:30, and 11:30 AM.

In the case of the weekday schedule, because the attendance at the 7:00AM Mass is 2 to 3 times greater than that of 8:00AM and because it is strongly encouraged that a priest follows the guidelines of celebrating only one Mass per day (except for Sundays, weddings, and funerals), beginning on Monday, August 7, there will no longer be an 8:00 AM Mass Monday through Saturday. Please note that there will be both a 7:00 and 8:00AM Mass when there is a school Mass, and it will be included in the weekly Mass schedule in the bulletin.

Also, because Communion Services are only supposed to take place when a priest is not available, beginning on Monday, August 7, there will be a Communion Service on Mondays @ 7:00AM and Saturdays @ 8:00AM.

The Liturgy of the Hours, Morning Prayer, will continue to be in the Day Chapel Monday through Saturday mornings beginning 15 minutes prior to the morning Liturgy in the Church.

Since having the opportunity to attend Mass and receive the Eucharist is critically important and valuable, please note the listing of Masses at our neighboring churches in the City of St. Charles.

For us and all Catholics our greatest challenge is to remain:

Steadfast in Faith/Forward in Hope/United in Love

A Grateful Message from Father Mark

I am filled with much gratitude for the wonderful celebration you had for me, celebrating my ministry here at St. Cletus and my 28 years of Priesthood. The cards, messages and gifts have lifted me up, especially during a time of difficulty and personal loss.

The beautiful green vestment I received as a gift from the Parish will always remind me of the strong faith and loving community St. Cletus is. This parish family has shaped me into a better priest and person that will make me even more effective in my next assignment at St. Paul's.

May God bless each and every one of you!

Faithfully,
Father Mark

"Christ's blood reveals to man that his greatness, and therefore his vocation, consists in the sincere gift of self. ...It is from the blood of Christ that all draw the strength to commit themselves to promoting life. It is precisely this blood that is the most powerful source of hope, indeed it is the foundation of the absolute certitude that in God's plan life will be victorious."
